A GAME THAT DIDN T WIN

The Kuklux outrages in the South have signally failed of the effect they appear to have been intended to produce For a little while they operated on the public mind of the North quite favorably to the Republican party and had the fall elections come off within the first week after the Penn revolution in Louisiana, there is every reason to believe the Republicans would have shown far greater strength than they could have shown a week before, or than they did actually exhibit at the polls The thing looked like a preconcerted uprising of the old rebel element to overthrow the authority of the General Government throughout the South, as simultaneously with the coup d'etat in Louisiana came up reports of violence committed in the same interest in other of the reconstructed States If the old horrors were to be enacted over again those Republicans who had adhered to the party in the dark days and had only stood aloof from the organization when the desire for plunder instead of disinterested patriotism seemed to control its actions, would drink all other considerations till the equal rights of all men in the Republic to the enjoyment of life liberty and property should be established for ever So ran the feeling among Republicans of all classes But the developments of a few days sufficed to set people thinking, and a few days more ripened thought into active suspicion of foul play and public sentiment settled back into its old grooves to await further disclosures Since then almost every day has brought forth some new proof of the plot, until few now affect to believe but that the comparatively small groundwork of fact furnished by the Louisiana affair was taken advantage of and exaggerated by every possible means for the purpose of influencing the elections Not only this, but the investigation in Alabama brings to light that the unfortunate state of affairs at the South consequent upon the antipathies of the two races toward each other has been kept up, in part at least, by the carpet-bag rulers for political purposes They have fanned sparks into flames, and then sent out the cry of fire! fire! to every village and hamlet of the land The incendiary has given the alarm in order to place himself in the position of trust which will enable him to secure booty

The reaction is certainly not waning, if it is not increasing in strength Not attempting to deny that the whites of the South have committed outrages upon the colored people, nor wishing in any measure to palliate such offenses, many have never the less been disgusted by the scoundrelism and cruelty involved in this last bloody scheme of the carpet baggers to an extent far beyond any feeling excited by the previous exhibitions of rascality from the same quarter

ABOUT FRENCH DICTIONARIES AND OTHER THINGS

We were even more surprised than amused on taking up yesterday's Bulletin to find in its editorial columns the following

CORRECTION

The ought the inadvertence of a printer in failing to correct a proof sheet an error in the orthography of the word 'Guillaume was allowed to appear in the leading article yesterday And were then the pronunciation of the word Guillemette," as given by us, has been questioned We simply printed the pronunciation as given by Webster—'gel yeh — Other persons whose judgment is entitled to respect think it ought to be as if written Will yehm-ett

The editor of the Bulletin certainly has a very unreliable memory That 'correction" was evidently penned under a misapprehension of what was contained in the article sought to be corrected Here is the paragraph in the former article, to which the "correction ' is intended to apply

"And when we look at the French Dictionary we find that the word 'Guillaume from which the English Christian name 'William' is derived means 'resolution defence and protector and that the word Guillemette (pronounced gel yeh met) from which the other Christian name Wilhelmina is derived signifies beauty as well as strength

The "correction' lets out the secret that it was not a 'French Dictionary," but the list of proper names in the back part of Webster's English dictionary, to which the sagacious editor of the Bulletin goes for his learning on French Etymology Further proof, if further proof were [illegible] furnished by the misspelling of the French word in the former article—Guillaume for Guillaume It was simply an unsuccessful attempt to render the English William into French, by a person who—had forgotten his French

We should be extremely obliged to the Bulletin man if he would inform us what French dictionary it is we must look at to find the 'word Guillaume' defined to mean 'resolution, defense and protector" The name "William" has about that definition in Webster's dictionary, but the word is defined quite differently by lexicographers Spiers & Surenne's standard work, says the word means a rabbet-plane,' and it gives no other or secondary definition If there is any standard authority that gives it the fantastic definition quoted by the editor of the Bulletin, we should be extremely glad to add the — to our of that authority to our very limited knowledge of French bibliography

Equally ludicrous is the blunder the editor of the Bulletin commits with regard to the pronunciation of the French word The French pronunciation is represented to the English student, in the standard work above cited thus Ghi-yom—the i like the English long e and the o close as in our word 'home What then be comes of the Bulletin's gel,' and the anonymous 'other persons Will so much for the dictionaries

We can not resist the temptation to expose a little further the recklessness of the Bulletin man's pedantry We are half inclined to apologise in advance for doing so and yet we can hardly believe anybody will deem the gibbeting of him an act requiring an apology under all the circumstances We allude to the Bulletin's reference to the "English Christian name Wilhelmina" There is no such "English Christian name in existence The name Wilhelmina is purely and exclusively German It is the German Wilhelm,' with the regular feminine termination a and the euphonic a added A man who never saw a German or French dictionary or grammar ought to have acquired sufficient knowledge of the rudiments of those languages by natural absorption, before he was as old as the editor of the Bulletin to secure him against such blunders as those we have noticed

COL CORNELIUS SWEEPING INTO

Among the important bills that were left imperfect by reason of the arbitrary and indecent action of Col Cornelius, the accidental President of the Senate was the bill to allow a majority of the directors of railway companies to reside outside of the State This bill had passed both branches of the Legislature had been signed by the Speaker of the House, and was in the Senate awaiting the signature of the President when Col Cornelius declared the Senate adjourned, without affixing his signature And this, we are informed, was full ten minutes before the hour arrived which had been fixed upon by joint resolution for adjournment This and some other important bills could it was supposed, be defeated in no other way The veto of these measures by Col Cornelius was an unprecedented and unparalleled assumption, for which this State must suffer

For a good many years Col Cornelius has been a persistent aspirant for the office of Governor of Oregon His claims have been presented to every Republican State Convention where a nomination for that office was to be made for eight years and will doubtless continue to be presented whenever there is an opportunity, till he succeeds in getting a nomination—unless either he or the party should die of exhaustion before the dawn of that blessed day When the Colonel reaches the acme of his greatness and the object of his ambition, and sits as Governor of this commonwealth, we shall try to submit with such resignation as the circumstances will admit of, and shall advise others to do the same, but until he does reach that position we protest as a citizen of the State, and on behalf of all other citizens, against his arbitrary exercise of powers that do not pertain to him He had neither the legal nor the moral right to prorogue the legislature because it was passing laws he did not like, nor to interpose a veto which the Constitution vests only in the Executive, and in him subject to legislative reversal

The Republic narrates this incident at the expense of the Democracy of the Sixteenth Assembly District in New York city The unterrified and (literally) unwashed had a banner raising spree and made themselves merry with bonfires and bad whisky When the banner was unfurled it was discovered that 'Wm Dorsheimer" was inscribed on it as a candidate for Governor and "Samuel J Tilden" for Lieutenant Governor The few Democrats in the crowd who could read were too drunk to notice the mistake until it was pointed out by a Liberal Republican who was passing by that way, and who is shrewdly suspected of putting up the job

The death is announced of Dr F M Eddy, Missionary Secretary of the Methodist Episcopal Board of Missions Dr Eddy was for a long time editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate at Chicago Subsequently he was pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist Church in Washington He was known as a vigorous writer an eloquent speaker and a man of great executive ability It is said that his death like that of Dr Taylor of the Baptist Home Mission Board, was the result of over work

The Treasury Department at Washington has just expended $10 50 for repairing a wheelbarrow that originally cost about $3 75 It is a mercy that when Treasury employes get tight they are only carried home in a wheelbarrow for if they used a hack the monthly public debt statement would have to stand on its head —Bulletin

And if a hack would stand the public debt statement on its head what might not be expected to happen if a landaulet were used?

Cherry Pectoral is victorious Dr Ayer has received the Republican nomination in the Seventh Congressional District of Massachusetts receiving on the formal ballot 61 out of 106 ballots cast A special to the New York Times says "The Doctor is expected from Europe this week and if his opponents can provoke him to take the stump his defeat is sure'

Dion Boucicault has come to grief in St. Louis Judge Treat of the United States District Court, in that city refuses to grant an injunction to restrain the performance of Led Astray, on the ground that, being a translation it cannot be copyrighted If there is any lawful method of shutting off Dion's wind we hope it will be applied at an early day

Sir Hercules George Robert Robinson is the name of the man selected by Her Majesty to raise the British flag on Fiji soil when those [illegible] are annexed to Great Britain Now if Vic would only impose on this Hercules as a second task the payment of Wales debts!

There is great excitement in New England shoe circles Gaillaudet's patent for pegging has been infringed suits for damages have been brought and a convention of all New England manufacturers has decided to take steps to oppose the demands of the patentees

The New York Times asks "Why is it that a demand for Gen. Sherman's resignation appears so suddenly in the papers at Washington which is known as the official organ of the Administration?

THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 29, 1874.

CITY.

WILL LEAVE US.—By the outgoing steamer this evening, several members of the theatrical company who have been playing in Portland for some time past, will take their departure. Among those departing we note the names of Amy Stone and her husband, Mr. H. F. Stone, Mr. Wm. C. Dudley, Mr. Wm. Sims, and D. Aiken. Mr. and Mrs. Stone are under an engagement to play both at Sydney and Melbourne, Australia. They will sail from San Francisco for Australia on the 7th of November to fulfill their engagement. Mr. Dudley, after arriving at San Francisco, will start in a few days for Salt Lake, where he is also under engagement. Messrs. Sims and Belasco will go to their homes at the Bay. Our best wishes, as likewise those of this public, accompany these persons who have contributed much to the amusement of theater-goers here, and their future lots may be cast, and we cherish the hope that they may find it as pleasant and convenient to return to Portland at no remote day.

THE "BOHEMIAN."—This is the title of a handsome little sheet published in San Francisco, the first number of which was issued on the 17th inst. Mr. Daniel O'Connell, a well known writer on art and literary circles in San Francisco and elsewhere, is announced as quill driver. This gentleman visited Portland about four years ago, in the capacity of a correspondent of one of the San Francisco journals. He is described as a terse, graphic writer, but unfortunately is slightly affected with poetic-mania. The salutatory states that they propose to make the Bohemian an illustrated chronicle of the art, literature and science of California. Original articles will be furnished by a talented corps of contributors, besides a full review of topics of general interest. The literary and art departments will be conducted by the artist members and critics of the Bohemian Club. Its humor will be without coarseness and its critical articles written in a spirit of fairness and impartiality.

BOW TO CAMP.—A sort of free fight occurred on Wednesday evening on Yamhill, between Third and Fourth streets, between the well-known sporting characters, "Prince of Wales," and her paramour, one John Sloat. Both came off second best. Before the row subsided the interference of the police was invoked, and the highly respectable (?) participants in the melee were led away like lambs to the slaughter. The "Prince" was charged with the offense of keeping a building not her own, and Sloat with assault and battery on the Venus-like person of his "affinity." Fifty dollars was "planked down" by the "Prince" for her release this morning, while poor John went himself with the felon's cell and a pair of prison blankets for the night. The domestic irregularities the principal of the little drama will be required to stand up and plead this morning.

VALUABLE DOG.—We learn that Mr. G. W. Fellom is the owner of a large Newfoundland dog, which has in several instances evinced a disposition. A few days since the fierce animal sprang at a Chinaman, who was passing the house, and "put it to the inoffensive Celestial at the side and bit him very severely. Several persons, attracted by the poor fellow's entories, came to the rescue and relieved him from the fangs of the savage animal. The Chinaman had done nothing to deserve such punishment, quietly walking along attending to his business, when the dog attacked him. We are informed that it is the practice of bad boys in that neighborhood to urge the dog to bite persons. Such conduct ought to meet with punishment. It is also the duty of the owner of the animal either to kill it or have it chained, and he should be compelled to do one thing or the other.

CANNED GLAMES.—A lady who has had much experience in preserving fruits—jellies, jams, etc.—informs us that the tin-covered jelly glasses, now so much in vogue with housewives, are a failure. She states that without an exception, the fruit enclosed in glasses with tin covers proved, upon examination, to be spoiled with mould and unfit for use, while fruit which was placed in glasses covered with paper was found sweet and fresh. It is evident that the tin covers cause the fruit to ferment, by preventing the escape of the contents to spoil, even if there is no loss to the atmosphere.

BEEF CANNING.—Large quantities of meat are being shipped down the river to Westport every day to supply the demand of the canneries located at that point. One hundred and [illegible] quarters of beef were sent below this morning, which will serve to give a large quantity shipped in the course of a few days. Mr. West has a large force of men employed in cutting and canning the meat. As the process has been tried, the experiment of preserving meat by the canning process has proved successful, and the enterprise in the hands of Mr. West has embarked promises to be highly remunerative.

HORSES.—Mr. Walter Moffett, who has been visitor of a fine farm some distance from the city, is also the owner of a number of fine horses. Yesterday we were shown a handsomely formed draft animal belonging to him, which was brought into the city. The animal is six years old, is 17 hands and 3 inches high, and weighs 1,528 lbs. There are on the farm six work animals, which are only inferior in size to the above mentioned. He also has on his place a colt, which is one year old last May, that weighs 1,000 pounds. It won two premiums at the late County Fair.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—There are now in attendance at the public schools of Portland over 1,200 pupils. It costs the city $2,500 per month to run the public schools, or $30,000 per year. At that rate it costs the tax-payers about $2 a month to educate the children. Surely the people's money cannot be more judiciously expended than in the education of the children. Ignorance and vice are hand in hand, and no system can be inaugurated which will tend to depopulate the calaboose [illegible] than free and liberal education.

ON THE WATER.—Last Saturday morning the steamer Onconta was taken down to Astoria, where she was put on the ways for a few days repairs. The under side of the hull was scraped and recaulked, when the steamer was launched and brought up to the city yesterday. While on the ways new piling timbers, the steamer Fideliter took the place of the Onconta on the line between Portland and the Cascades. The Fideliter took the place of the Welcome on the lower route. This morning the Oneonta resumed her old line.

LOCAL.—Mr. B. L. Henness, who has a farm near Hood river, Wasco county, has laid on our table two enormous potatoes of the variety known as Peerless and Late Rose. One of the potatoes weighs 5½ pounds, is oval shaped, and appears to be [illegible] three or four large potatoes which have grown fast together. The specimens below, among the largest which we have seen, Mr. Henness has raised the present season.

DIED.—Mr. James Johns, of St Helens, who, it will be remembered, shot a boy named Wilson ten days ago, who in company with another lad was stealing grapes from his orchard, was indicted by the grand jury, just before being discharged last week. Yesterday the case came up for trial in the Circuit Court, resulting all the testimony, the jury returned a verdict of honorable acquittal.

SHIPMENT.—The steamer brought up on her last trip a band of Spanish Merino bucks which were sent to LaGrande to a stock raiser in that vicinity. Twenty-one Cotswold bucks were put up on the steamer. These sheep belong to Col. Peter Saxe, and will be sent this morning to Eugene City.

A TRUE BILL.—In the U. S. District Court yesterday the grand jury returned one true bill. We understand the parties indicted have been arrested, but no other business was transacted in the Court, which will convene this morning at 10 o'clock.

LUMBER.—The steamer Emma Hayward took on board 270 tons of wheat and went down the river. This grain will be transferred to the ship Prince Charley, which is loading at Astoria, and has about completed her cargo.

THE SOCIABLE.—There was a goodly attendance last evening at the vestry room of the Taylor street M. E. Church on the occasion of the sociable and festival given at that place. The proceeds, which we are gratified to state were quite substantial, are to be applied in furnishing the parsonage for the newly-arrived pastor, Rev. R. Bentley. A number of tables were scattered about the room, on which were placed various articles for sale, such as bouquets, etc. But the most attractive feature of the sociable were the tables on which was spread a profusion of all kinds of tempting refreshments. The tables were patronized liberally, and chatting groups were clustering about them at all times, so much so that it was with difficulty that an available seat could be procured. The ladies, under whose auspices the sociable was given, were assiduous in their courtesies to guests, and no person failed to receive proper attention. To all who attended it was a social event which can only be remembered with pleasure.

THE STEAMERS.—The steamer John L. Stephens, which reached this port on Tuesday evening, brought a large number of passengers and 482 tons of assorted cargo. Good weather and favorable winds were encountered during the passage, and no accidents occurred on board. This evening at 4 o'clock the steamer will sail for San Francisco with passengers and freight.

WEATHER REPORT.—From the records of the U. S. Signal Station of Observation, Portland Oregon, October 28, 1874:

UNDER ADVISEMENT.—The case of the State vs James Turk, charged with assault upon one Fitzpatrick, came up yesterday in the Police Court. On hearing the testimony the Court took the matter under advisement until this morning. Fitzpatrick, who was arrested for drunken and disorderly conduct, was sent to jail for three days.

APPOINTED INSPECTOR.—Captain George H. Burton, 21st Infantry, has been appointed to act as inspector on certain medical and hospital property at Fort Townsend, W. T., for which Acting Assistant Surgeon Fred. W. Sparling is accountable, reported the 21st inst. as requiring the action of an inspector.

A GOOD PRICE.—Mr. Oscar Kilbourn sold at auction yesterday, lot 2 in block 70, adjoining the First Congregational Church, for the sum of $2,200. Rev. Wm. Roberts was the purchaser, and he has reason to congratulate himself on having secured a good bargain.

EAST OF THE MOUNTAINS.

Our occasional correspondent, writing from Walla Walla, under a late date, says:

They had a three months drought in Walla Walla county up to the 24th inst., when rain fell. Tomatoes were growing up to the 20th inst., in that country. The street sprinkler in Walla Walla city was a success until the fall rains. An artesian well is talked of there.

The Independents and Democrats do not work well together in that county,—Republicans mostly withdrawn from the Independents, except for some county officers, and there are signs of a collapse of the organization. The Independents there only claim to vote together for their own nominees for county officers. They vote their choice for Delegate to Congress without regard to their attachment to the Independent party. The local papers in Walla Walla county, as elsewhere, are accustomed to start monstrous roorbacks on opposing candidates on the eve of election day to make way for their favorites.

Jacobs' chances are claimed to be better by his friends there than under the circumstances they had reason to hope they could be cast of the mountains, while his prospects of reducing the large Democratic vote there are growing more flattering daily, since the nomination.

The Woolen Factory at Dayton pays a fine dividend.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

A few days since, the Arcadians received a communication from the Junior College club of Salem. The ostensible object of the communication was a challenge to the Arcadians to play a series of match games for the championship of the State. But from the tenor and tone of the letter, it was intended to humiliate and offend the club to whom it was made. It was couched in such language as to convey a studied insult to the Arcadians. The insulting and insolent bearing of the communication was as undeserved and uncalled for as it was beneath the dignity of the writer, or the members of the club who dictated and endorsed it. We are sorry to be compelled to lose our good opinion of the Juniors. However much we admire their qualities as players, we cannot say much in favor of their exercise of professional courtesy. We frankly confess that we thought them incapable of such conduct, and shall still think that the communication was written at the instance of parties who are smarting under the late defeat at the hands of the victorious club.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Richardson will sell some valuable property on Saturday.

Some gentleman announces elsewhere that he wants to borrow $20,000 on good security.

The most elegant lots of goods ever offered at auction in this city, will be opened out at Kilbourn & Co.'s this morning and right along hereafter.

Clarke & Henderson publish something under New To-Day which every lady in the land will want to peruse. Don't fail to read it, ladies one and all.

Great auction sale of tea! Read S. L. Jones & Co.'s advertisement. They will sell at auction sale, San Francisco, on Tuesday, November 3d, 1874, 4,000 packages of the new crop of Japan and Comet teas. An excellent opportunity for purchasers.

AMUSEMENTS.

Carl Rosco, the clever illusionist, will give two of his attractive performances at Oro Fino Theater on Friday and Saturday evenings. He proposes to expose to the audience all his tricks and show how they are done.

If you want to see how you would look if left without food for four months, go and see those rattlesnakes in the Museum, stretched out. They are alive.

JOHNSON & QUINN, MERCHANT TAILORS—Beg to announce to the citizens of Portland and vicinity, that they have opened a Merchant Tailoring establishment on Stark street, between First and Second, and are now ready to take orders for first-class fitting garments, made in the very latest styles. Our stock of goods consists of English, Scotch, French and Domestic Manufactures. Also Oregonian suits made to at lower prices than any other house in the city. Respectfully,

JOHNSON & QUINN.

Customers that have been so well suited with my cutting while at Fishel & Roberts, will find me at my own place of business on Stark street, between First and Second.

Very respectfully, C. A. JOHNSON.

Why will you smoke an inferior cigar when O'Brien keeps such splendid Havanas?

INVESTING IN OREGON MINES.

Senator Jones, whose great and rapidly increasing wealth is being prudently invested both in mining and other industrial enterprises in various parts of the country, has just concluded the purchase of one-half the large gravel mining claim of Messrs. Carson & Crane, located at the head waters of Grand Ronde river, Union county, Oregon, and known to our people as the Camp Carson mines. This claim covers several miles in length on perhaps the heaviest ancient river gravel channel yet discovered on this coast, the channel being several hundred feet in width, and the present face of bank over two hundred feet of gravel—prospecting gold from the surface to bedrock, although the deep part of channel has not yet been reached. The hydraulic apparatus used, being the heaviest yet invented, consists of four little giant machines, one with 7-inch nozzle, two of them have 6-inch nozzles and one 4 inch, and other similar machines are to be put in use. The present ditches have capacity to furnish 4,000 inches of water constantly during the mining season, and a large force of men will be used during the winter and spring to reservoir several mountain lakes to increase the water supply—later in the season—and all of the present ditches are to be enlarged.

Joseph McGillivary, a shrewd Scotchman who has had much experience in gravel mining, has just concluded the examination of this property and completed the purchase for Senator Jones, and has also examined the range for more than ten miles in length—including the claims of Messrs. Robbins & Nabl which is on the same channel—and found good prospects of gold at all the points tested, which was in more than fifty places along the channel, and we congratulate our people on the prospect of now having this gravel mining interest thoroughly developed, for it has proven a probable source of income to the mining sections of California, and, differing from many other kinds of mining, almost universally proves less hazardous, and more lucrative to the owners, and for this enterprise, in particular, we predict abundant success.

That universal tobacco, the best brands of Havana and domestic cigars, meerschaum pipes, tubes, etc., are the articles Bachman, next to Walter Bros., can supply you with.

The Wheeler and Wilson Sewing Machine is still ahead on the Pacific coast as elsewhere, having this year taken the first premium at the Oregon State Fair, Washington County Fair, and California State and County Fairs.

The fall season has fairly set in, and with it our merchants are opening their new stocks in large quantities. Among those who have prepared for the rush, we find those well known clothiers, Beck & Waldman, who are not behind any in their selections of fall and winter goods. They have studied the present wants of customers, and accordingly have purchased at the lowest figure, with the object of affording their patrons the greatest advantages. Boys' clothing is a specialty with this house, and parents should note the fact.

NEW ATTRACTIONS.—Very few are acquainted with the fact that JOS. KOHN, opposite the First National Bank, has just opened a magnificent assortment of Clothing and Furnishing Goods. None can but admire the handsome Diagonals the beautiful Beaver Suits, the attractive Cassimeres and other goods now displayed at his large and elegant store. He, as well as his clerks, are accommodating, and will gratify the tastes of all who may chance to call. Mr Kohn can please you, that is morally certain. Now is the time to purchase a full suit.

Don't pay high prices for Hats while they can be obtained at a reasonable figure. Among the latest additions to the stock of JOHN O'NEIL & Co., Clothiers, is a complete line of Hats for the fall and winter season. They propose to sell them cheaper than the same have been offered heretofore in this city. When you need a new tile bear this in mind. The high scale of prices are played out, and O'NEIL & Co. can prove it. They are opening some new styles in Hats and Clothing. Make a note of it before it is too late.

TO THE LADIES.

Miss Perry, dressmaker, begs leave to announce to the ladies that she has returned to the city and will be pleased to have them call on Thursday, Oct. 15th (opening day), at her room, No. 11, Dekum's Building, over Clark & Henderson's.

TO THE LADIES OF PORTLAND.

MRS. W. N. WALLACE will open a first class DRESSMAKING ESTABLISHMENT Oct. 1st, in one of the new and Elegant Rooms on Stark Street, between First and Second, at which place she would respectfully solicit your patronage.

Punctures of quack medicines are drunk every year. Some people have a hankering after them. If a tithe of what is claimed for them, could be believed, the boards of health might go into bankruptcy; there would be nothing for them to do—so it goes—people will take pills and drastic cathartics, until they grow too weak for any more, or until they use PLANTATION BITTERS when they become able to go about again, and so be restored to health.

Sciatica is really "Hip Gout" and one of the most excruciating diseases which afflict mankind. It usually shows itself first on the ball of the foot, involving the toes, and often the entire leg from the hip-joint. If neglected or wrongly treated the disease becomes chronic, and entails a life of misery upon the sufferer. By rubbing the parts affected, from the seat of the disease, which is the hip, following nerve, which can be easily traced by the pressure, with MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT instant relief will be experienced, and if persevered in, a permanent cure will be effected.

If there be one thing which disfigures the face more than another, it is sallowness. This results from the clogging of the pores of the skin, which always precedes cutaneous disease. The only remedy is the regular use of HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM, which opens the pores and restores the bloom of youth, by removing the disturbing cause. The faded, worn look of many young ladies scarcely out of their teens, results from the use of pastes and unguents which excite at first, but are always succeeded by premature decay of beauty.

Strange Head-dresses!—A picture of the reign of the Maiden Queen, described the prevailing styles of Head dressing: The hair must be curled, frizzled, crisped, laid out in ropes or walks and borders from one ear to the other, and, lest it should fall down, under-propped with forks and wires, and ornamented with great wreaths of gold and silver with bugles, ouches, rings, glass and other such gewgaws." Now a Lady has only a bottle of LYON'S KATHAIRON, to keep the hair healthy luxurious and luxuriant, and a moderate amount of taste, and she can excel the historic beauties of the olden times.

ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY OFFERED
For the relief of the afflicted.

The Surgeons of the NATIONAL SURGICAL INSTITUTE will visit the Pacific Coast on the 15th day of November, and remain until the 15th day of December, 1874—one month—at their old building, No. 319 Bush street, between Kearny and Montgomery, San Francisco.

Those in chances for help which every sufferer should take advantage of. The hundreds of patients treated by them during their former visits, are all rapidly being benefitted and cured. They treat successfully all cases of Paralysis; all deformities of the Face, Spine and Limbs; Diseased Joints, Diseased Eyes and Ears, Catarrh; Private Diseases, Diseases of Females, Piles, Fistula, etc. No hopeless cases are undertaken and it really does seem as if no cases are hopeless in the hands of these skillful surgeons.

They are preparing all the machinery necessary for the Swedish Movement Cure; Medicated Baths, Machinery to equalize the circulation, restore Paralyzed Limbs, etc.; and a much finer outfit of braces and appliances than heretofore. All the commencement during this visit, and the many hundreds treatment during this visit, and the many hundreds now under treatment, will have the advantages of all these most effectual means of cure besides some of the surgeons will this time remain to continue their treatment.

Remember the time and place, and come as early in the month as possible, thus getting the full benefit of their visit.

IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH A SLIGHT COUGH, Hoarseness or Sore Throat, you may save the expense of a doctor's bill by using at once Dr. Jayne's Expectorant. A neglected cold often terminates through much suffering in Consumption. A slight inflammation of the lining of the wind tubes, the usual symptoms of which are a sore Throat or a Pain in the Breast, will if not properly attended to, frequently lead to Bronchitis. Even as a matter of economy, to say nothing of comfort or the danger to pulmonary and bronchial organs, act prudently with your Cold, and by resorting in time to a standard remedy—the Expectorant—save money and escape more serious trouble.

At the Store of

BRADLEY, MARSH & CO.,

Extensive Shipments to Arrive

Ex "JOHN L. STEPHENS" AND "AJAX."

THE FOLLOWING LETTER, FROM MR. MARSH, who is now purchasing in the San Francisco market, will explain itself:

GRAND HOTEL, 7th October, 1874.

DEAR BRADLEY: Arrived safely, having had fair average passage. Set at once to work. First called on ——. Paid them $2,500 on account. Got 3 per cent discount on $1,150 not yet due. Mr. —— seemed well pleased; said they had heard rather unfavorable accounts of us from Portland merchants, going ahead too fast; selling goods too low; ruined the trade, etc. Explained the evident animus of such statements. Wanted to call round on the other houses before buying, but Mr. —— would not let me stir—so started in and bought a splendid lot of stuff at really extraordinary low prices. Cleared out 63 pieces of English waterproof and ladies' cloth at 95c—regular price $1 20. These we must sell at $1 per yard and beat the wholesale houses, they can't touch them at that figure. There is a temporary decline in cotton goods, so secured 16 cases leading brands muslins and sheetings. Selling these, as usual, at cost will give us a splendid advantage over all the other stores. Got a fine lot Bed spreads 20 per cent. under regular price. In Blankets I made a special hit. The house had 12 bales on consignment, and being agents for the —— mills, did not wish to exhibit them in competition. mills, did not wish to exhibit them in competition. Bought the lot. You may think this rather stiff, but when you see the splendid quality of these goods you will at once concede this a magnificent purchase. Mark them low, and make a note. Do not let the country storekeepers gobble all these up, as they did the last cheap lot, keep them for our regular customers. Got two job lines in Dress Goods to sell at 25@37½c per yard—30 per cent. less than cost of importing. Secured two original cases of the Buffalo brand silk warp Alpacas at agent's rates. These range in price from 25c to $1. The time is past with us for buying a piece or two. Cleared out several job lines in Flannels, Table Linen, Napkins, Towels etc., all very low. Also several other goods that can best be purchased at this house. Dined and wined with Mr. ——. Splendid house, magnificently furnished. Met ——.

Tuesday—Called early on ——. Paid our account in full. Same story as to reports. The fact is, the —— evidently "went for us" in very blackness of heart, but our name is a tower of strength that the shot of accident nor dart of chance can neither graze nor pierce. The robbed that smiles steals something from the thief, and we can well smile at these attempts to jostle a brother bearing his load on the rough road of life. The heavy cash remittances we make regularly stun them all here. They say the Portland men are generally 'long winded.' Our getting the Granger trade is also a surprise to many. Purchased a fine lot of Shawls, Hosiery, Men's Shirts, Pants, Ladies' Merino Vests, Woolen Jackets, Trimmings, and all fancy goods at this house. They were most anxious to sell, and as they made considerable reductions in prices, I bought largely. Send you invoices overland. Goods go by John L. Stephens. The shipment from England will arrive by next Panama steamer. The Clothing, Hats, etc., from New York come by rail. When all these are opened out our stock will be the finest on the coast. Will back us up to any extent. He knows we possess the powers ordained to last. His business has doubled this year. This is truly a Golden State, with its golden mines, golden grain and the golden wealth of living manhood and womanhood and pouring in at the rate of three hundred daily from all parts of the civilized and uncivilized world. Would that we had railroads to enable us to share this prosperity. S. L. MARSH.

A STATEMENT OF THE CHARTER CASE—A SENSIBLE SPEECH

New Orleans Corr N Y Times
NEW ORLEANS La Oct 14 1874

At the last session of the Legislature of this State an act was passed by which the charter of the city of New Orleans was materially changed Among other things it was provided that the Mayor and city officers should hereafter serve for four instead of two years and that they should be chosen at the regular State election All vacancies occurring by resignation death expiration of terms disability or otherwise were to be filled by appointment of the Governor It was further specifically provided that nothing in the act should be construed to extend the term of the present incumbents, and that upon the expiration of the term for which they were elected the Governor should appoint their successors who were to hold office until the general election of 1876 The bill was never signed by Gov Kellogg and has not therefore become a law It is still in his possession however and under the statutes he can sign and promulgate it any time before the meeting of the next Legislature The Democrats have just nominated a very strong municipal ticket, and there seems to be no doubt that they will carry the election Seeing this, and desiring to still retain their well known influence with the city officers a number of thieving Federal officeholders here are using every effort to induce the Governor to sign the bill referred to and under its provisions appoint creatures of theirs to the vacant positions Thus far Mr Kellogg has remained firm in his determination not to sign the bill but there is reason to believe that he will not long be able to resist the pressure which is being brought to bear upon him Meanwhile the question is being excitedly discussed by the people and it is generally understood that if the bill is signed there will be another attack on the State-house. This morning during an interview regarding the matter had with a leading member of the White League he stated that if the election was allowed to proceed no further trouble was to be apprehended in New Orleans for some weeks at least. If, however, the new charter was signed and the people thus deprived of the right to select their own municipal officers no power on earth could prevent revolution and bloodshed The opinion is expressed by all classes of citizens Mr. Kellogg has been informed of it and should he sign the bill he will do so knowing the terrible results that will certainly follow

GOOD FEELING AMONG THE DEMOCRATS

While the white people are steadfast in their determination touching the city charter, there are strong indications that in relation to other matters of public Interest a better feeling is beginning to prevail The canvass is being conducted by the Democratic leaders in a quiet and sensible way that is very commendable, and the tone of many of the public speakers is indicative of a strong desire for peace and order Last evening, at a largely attended Democratic mass meeting, Gen Randall Gibson who for several successive elections has been the Democratic candidate for Congressional Representative of this district, and who is again a nominee spoke at length upon the present condition of Louisiana He was most conservative in his remarks and refrained from making any statement which would be calculated to unduly influence or excite the minds of the listeners Referring to the financial condition of the State, he said there were various causes adduced by theorists in explanation of the present poverty and depression of trade. Chief among these was the idea that war had impoverished and prostrated the South He entertained no such belief Indeed France furnished a thorough refutation of the assertion that in modern times war could for any length of time reduce to poverty a country of many resources Her great capital prostrated by the outrages of her own communists her territory dismembered by the loss of two of her most beautiful provinces her people undismayed by the death of thousands lost in battle, promptly come forward in response to the "five" for one thousand million dollars to pay the German indemnity, and yet the natural wealth of France was as nothing in comparison to the rich nature had lavished upon many of the Southern States It was the character of the French people, their cheerful acknowledgement of existing circumstances, and their courageous determination to discharge their brave resolve that had enabled them to perform a financial feat that had no parallel in the world s history War had not daunted the valor of the French and it had not caused the courage or fortitude of the people of Louisiana to deteriorate. It was this belief that made him deny that the present deplorable condition of the South had been caused by the rebellion Other seekers after the solution of the problem urged that the abolition of slavery was at the bottom of all the trouble and there were many honorable gentlemen at the North who co incidentally believed that the misery of the South was due in a great measure to the desire on the part of the white population to have the negroes returned to a condition of slavery This idea, General Gibson said, was in every way a mistaken one He had a very large acquaintance in most of the Southern States and he had yet to see one man who was in favor of a restoration of slavery in any form He was himself certainly opposed to anything of the sort, and hostile as he was to war inasmuch as he was to any appeal to arms, if there was one proposition that would reconcile him to resuming his sword and once more seeking his place in battle it would be a proposition either directly or indirectly looking to the re-establishment of slavery in any form This declaration was greeted with loud and long continued applause. In continuation Gen Gibson said that no government, and that alone, was to blame for the present condition of Louisiana Much of this misgovernment was due to the bad city which had been, of both parties, had sought to incite between the two races Some denied that this feeling was principally kept alive by so-called carpet-baggers. This was a great mistake The men who fanned the strife were not born North many of them were natives of the South and had lived in it much their birth The speaker continued in this strain at considerable length and at the conclusion of his address was heartily cheered

MISSISSIPPI RIVER SCENES

When the rains have swollen its tributary rivers to more than their ordinary volume, the Mississippi is grand, terrible, treacherous Always subtle and serpent-like in its mode of stealing upon its prey it swallows up acres at one fell swoop on one side sweeping them away from its cold hold on the main land, while, on the other, it covers plantations with slime, and broken trees trunks and boughs, forcing the frightened inhabitants into the second story of their cabins, and driving the cattle and swine upon high knolls to starve, or perhaps finally to drown It pierces the puny levees which have cost the States bordering upon it such immense sums, and goes bubbling and roaring through the crevasse, distracting the planters, and sending dismay to millions of people in a single night. It promises a fall on one day on another it rises so suddenly that the adventurous woodsmen along the border have scarcely time to flee It makes a lake of the fields country between the two great rivers, it carries off hundreds of wood piles, which lonely and patient labor has heaped in the hope that a passing steamer will buy them up and thus reward a season s work Out of each small town on its western bank, set too carelessly by the water s edge, it makes a pigmy Venice or floats it off altogether As the huge steamer glided along on the mighty current we could see families perched in the second stories of their houses gazing grimly out on the approaching ruin At one point a man was sculling from house to barnyard with food for his stock The log barn was a dreary pile in the midst of the flood The swine and cows stood shivering on a pine knoll disconsolately burrowing and browsing Hailed by some flustered pater familias or plantation master bound to the nearest town for supplies, we took him to his destination As we sailed below the Arkansas and White rivers, the gigantic volume of water had so far overrun its natural boundaries that we seemed at sea, instead of upon an inland river The cotton woods and cypresses stood up amid the water wilderness like ghosts Gazing into the long avenues of the somber forests we could see only the same level, all-enveloping flood In the open country the cabins seemed ready to sail away, though their masters were usually smoking with much equanimity and awaiting a "fall —Edward King in Down the Mississippi in Scribner for October

In local monetary circles there is not much transpiring worthy of extended notice those seeking accommodations being able to supply their wants at the usual rates at the banks while outside lenders claim that the large demands justify rather suffer terms to which borrowers are not often found to accede. Until the exporters are able to make larger purchases of grain than at present, there is no danger of a great closeness in the market though of course available funds are not now so freely offered in the market as earlier in the season

The volume of trade in general mercantile circles is augmenting to a very encouraging extent and with the promptness which dealers require in their customers the business of the season ought to turn out quite handsomely Prices have been during the fall so far and are now quite steady but few staple goods showing any important fluctuations since the season began

As the time for the meeting of Congress approaches the question of the resumption of specie payments by the Government begins to occupy the usual attention of our Eastern exchanges. The U S Economist a leading financial journal in commenting on this subject, says that, perhaps the most serious obstacle to resumption is the general but mistaken idea that somehow the country is destined to grow up to specie payments and all we have to do is to wait and see There is really no error respecting resumption more serious than this It is made the excuse for evasions and postponements of all kinds There is no such thing as growing up to resumption except the resolute determination on the part of the people to pay their demand notes This surely can be very easily arrived at But it appears to be regarded by the average politician with genuine horror There is much truth and force in the foregoing sentences but, in our opinion The average politician will be compelled to succumb to the pressure of popular opinion and decision It cannot be denied that the question of resumption has been broadly and fairly discussed for several consecutive years and the people have been educated into a much clearer understanding of its merits and great importance

The Commercial Herald says of the San Francisco money market that rates have not changed from 1 per cent. a month at the commercial banks and 8@9 per cent. per annum at the savings institutions and everything moves on quietly with somewhat of a reduction of the surplus funds and a little more conservatism on the part of lenders.
